OVAR

An aerial photograph of a large commercial complex, likely a shopping center or industrial park. The central focus is a large, rectangular building with a grey roof and a curved, white facade. To the left of this building is a large parking lot filled with cars. The entire complex is surrounded by a dense forest of tall, thin trees. In the background, other industrial buildings and a clear blue sky with a few clouds are visible. The foreground is dominated by a large orange shape that contains white text.
